Plans for EUFMC in 2021 as a virtual conference include:

- Educational sessions with industry experts speaking about the subjects that matter most to your operation
- Opportunities to interact with your most important suppliers to get information on their latest technologies and your questions answered
- Interactive roundtable sessions with other fleets and suppliers to share challenges, solutions and best practices
- Innovative virtual networking opportunities with other fleets and suppliers
- Virtual exhibits featuring the latest equipment, tools and services from the industry's leading manufacturers and providers

Educational sessions being planned for the 2021 EUFMC will cover topics such as Autonomous Vehicles and Equipment, Vehicle Safety Technology, Telematics, Tire Failure Analysis and Retread Management, Efficiently Managing Rental Equipment, Data Science - Using Data to Improve Your Fleet, Recruiting and Training Technical Employees, and Regulatory and Legal Updates.

“For EUFMC 2021 we’re investing in a virtual experience unlike any other you’ve experienced over the past year,” said Jeffrey Schneider, EUFMC President and Manager Transportation at Louisville Gas & Electric-KU. “While gathering in person this year is unfortunately not possible, we believe that this virtual event will allow the valuable educational and informational content of EUFMC to reach more of your fleet management team at a lower cost of attendance. Through this medium we will bring to everyone who attends the same high quality and value that has always been a hallmark of EUFMC.”
