Team USA Paralympian to Share Story of Strength, Courage and Triumph at EUFMC 2025

Mallory Weggemann, a four-time Paralympian swimmer for Team USA and the holder of multiple American and World records will serve as the EUFMC 2025 Dinner Speaker. In her presentation—Grit, Resilience and Triumph Over Any Obstacle—Weggemann will share her personal journey following her paralysis at the age of 18, emphasizing themes of resilience, the power of a positive mindset, and the importance of embracing one's uniqueness.

A five-time Paralympic medalist and an ESPN ESPY Award recipient, Weggemann worked as a reporter and in-studio correspondent for NBC Sports at the 2018 and 2022 Winter Paralympic Games and made her hosting debut for NBC while also competing at the 2024 Paris Summer Paralympic Games. Weggemann serves as well as the co-CEO and co-founder of TFA Group, a social impact agency and production studio that produces projects ranging from branded content to documentaries.

Along with being a highly sought-after motivational speaker, Weggemann is a fierce advocate for the disability community in the workforce, media, entertainment, and sports, and a firm believer that storytelling and sport can serve as a catalyst for change. In her memoir, LIMITLESS, her story serves as a reminder that strength, courage, and triumph can emerge even in the face of life-altering circumstances. In the film WATERSHED, co-directed and released with her husband Jay Snyder, Weggemann shares personal struggles and their journey leading up to the postponed Tokyo Paralympics, while revealing how resilience can overcome adversity.
